Customer Reviews

From this book, I've learned about my rights before I work with a credit repair company and what I can do to help myself with my own credit report. If you're coming out of bankruptcy, foreclosure or simply don't have a very good credit score, there are plenty of things that you can do in order to boost your credits. One major factor in your credit score is how much revolving credit you have versus how much you're actually using. The smaller that percentage is, the better it is for your credit rating. What you might not know: Even if you pay balances in full every month, you still could have a higher utilization ratio than you'd expect. That's because some issuers use the balance on your statement as the one reported to the bureau. Even if you're paying balances in full every month, your credit score will still weigh your monthly balances.
