Stan and Jan Berenstain introduced the first Berenstain Bear books in 1962. Mike Berenstain grew up watching his parents work together to write about and draw these lovable bears. Eventually he started drawing and writing about them too. Though Stan died in 2005, and Jan in 2012, Mike continues to create the delightful Bear adventures from his studio in Pennsylvania, in an area that looks much like the sunny dirt road deep in Bear Country.

LOVE, LOVE, LOVE this book for my little ones! It is a beautiful way to understand God's creation.

Nice little book to remind kids that God gave us a beautiful earth to enjoy!! Put down the remote and get outside ;)

This series of Christian Berenstain books are wonderful!

My kids really enjoy this book.

The Berenstain Bears Discover God's Creation is one of the newest Berenstain Bear books by the Berenstain trio. By the title, I thought this book would be about the creation story in Genesis. Instead the book encourages children and adults to turn off the TV and go enjoy God's creation. Momma C's Thoughts: Like many of the Berenstain Bear books, this one contains four-strain-rhyming lines. This makes it fun to read and encourages children to fill in the rhyming word. TV watching is a huge problem in today's society. I love how the authors use the beauty of God's creation to encourage kids to get outside. This is a good reminder for parents as well to "unplug." After reading, we each described our favorite part of God's creation. I give this book 5 star because of it's unique story line. Thank you to Zonderkidz for giving me the opportunity to review this product.

If your kids like television a bit too much, The Berenstain Bears Discover God's Creation might encourage them to play outside more. In this rhyming edition by Stan, Jan, and Mike Berenstain, the young Berenstain cubs are too often glued to the TV, so Mama Bear takes away the remote control. Soon, the young cubs are wondering why TV had such a strong appeal. They've stepped outside into God's creation and feel wonder that he created so many marvelous things. They play with their friends, walk in the rain, and watch the birds, until they exclaim: "God's creation, we have found, has a better picture and better sound. And worlds of wonder all around! Thanks, Lord, for this world we've found!" Finally, the moon comes out and the cubs go home - onto to find Papa watching television. "Papa! Too much of that TV slush will surely turn your brain to mush! Come outside, and you will see God's creation is much better than any old TV!" What I Like: Some of the Berenstain Bears books published by Zonderkidz barely mention God, but that's not the case with this title.

Throughout, God is named as the creator of the world, and the bears often thank him for it. If your kids love the Berenstain Bears, as mine do, this is a good addition to their personal library. What I Dislike: Nothing. Overall Rating: Very Good. Kristina Seleshanko Christian Children's Book Review
