Lisa J. Amstutz is the author of more than 30 nonfiction books for children and many magazine and newspaper articles. Her background includes a B.A. in Biology and an M.S. in Environmental Science/Ecology. She loves sharing amazing facts about science and nature with kids.

As a teacher that is working on a unit on animal adaptations this is a must. The pictures are stunning and visually pleasing. The text is easy to read for my 2nd graders, but still higher level thinking. I would recommend this for all!

My daughter enjoyed this book and learned a lot from it.

Excellent written, simple format but informative. My first graders loved them as we studied animal adaptations in different habitats. Could easily be enjoyed by other grades, too. Beautiful photos as well. I recommend all the habitats this series has (I bought 4)!

I used this book for PLTW (Project Lead the Way) Animal Adaptation unit for first grade and it was just perfect.

Great book to use with my students during our Arctic unit.

Great!

A good little book for my first and second graders to learn about the special ways polar animals survive!

Great pictures, my kids love this book
